SMOOT TO RESCUE IDAHO REPUBLICANS

The Hierarch's Representative Sends $17,000 to Aid the Church Crowd.

TITHING FUND DRAWN

Apostle Sends Gooding and Brady a Large Amount of Dough.

The organ of the Apostle Senator has had a great deal to say about an alleged fund having been seut from Utah by an American party leader to aid in the election of Senator Dubois. The story, as all well know, was a canard, but it was used by the Smootite organ as a stop thief cry to cover the tracks of its apostolic boss. Comes now the Mountain Home (Idaho) Maverick with the following: the following:

An Interesting Talk.

An Interesting Talk.

"One day last week while Senator Smoot of Utah was issuing instructions to Chairman Brady of the Idaho Republican Central committee, over the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company's wires, a rather entertaining leak occurred. Not being on the witness stand, the Maverick will not give details as to where, how or why this leak took place; but parties at both ends of the line will know that such was the case when they read this statement.

"Senator Smoot was over Salt Lake

when they read this statement.

"Senator Smoot was over Salt Lake way, while Mr. Brady was in Boise, presumably at Republican headquarters. There was also there Gov. Gooding, who, of course, made a remark or so occasionally himself. Another man was present, at which end of the line could not be determined, nor could his name be distinctly heard, who butted into the conference now and then. They held the line for, what appeared to the listener, fully an hour, and grave affairs of state were guardedly discussed. Now, this is what will convince the gentlemen who were parties to the conference that this is no fake. Senator Smoot said to Chairman Brady:

Dough in Plenty.

Dough in Plenty. "'I am sending you $17,000 of the money necessary, and under no circum-stances must you let it get away from "The 'it' is supposed to refer to the Boise Capital News, as it is suthoritatively reported that the paper is now controlled by the Mormons. The price paid is said to have been $55,000, and the natural supposition is, taken in connection with this $17,000 message from the control of the Mark. nection with this $17,000 message from the senatorial apostle to the Mark Hanna of Idaho politics, that one-half of the money was furnished by the Mormon church direct and the other nalf by its Idaho allies. Now, remem-ber, no bluff at a denial goes; or else the eat really will be let out of the bag."

Chairman Cunningham of the church Democratic County committee has appointed former Mayor Richard P. Morris treasurer of the committee, Mr. Morris will assume his duties Monday, when it is believed the tithing barrel will be opened.

In its report of the church Republican primaries Friday night the Smootite organ stated that Myron Whittaker presided in the Nineteenth district. Mr. Whittaker did not preside at the meeting, he was not at the meeting, he was home all evening, he is not a church Republican, he is an American and has been for two years. Barring these facts the Smootite organ's report of the meetthe Smootite organ's report of the meet-

The church Republican State conven tion will convene in the Salt Lake The-ater on Thursday. The Smoot slate will go through like a whirl.

Complete returns of all the districts in Weber county of the primaries held Friday night have not been received. It is apparent, however, that Howell has carried the county, as well as the city. While Glasmann is not an elected delegate, you can be sure that he will be in the convention, anyway. In the first place, two of his employees were elected although he was defeated, and he can take either or both of their proxies. He prefers, however, to gather a bunch of proxies in the county outside of the of proxies in the county outside of the city, and will be very strong in the convention, from Warren particularly. Another peculiarity of the Ogden pricavies is that Thomas H. Davis, the present postmaster of Ogden, who will be succeeded by Glasmann under ap-pointment by Joseph Howell, is a sup-porter of Howell, and will support him in the convention. There is no talk at all in Weber county about Christensen. Friday night the Howell support looked to be about 65 per cent. Last night it looked like 85 per cent.

Republican primaries were held in the five wards of Provo Friday evening, and in each case the Smoot machine controlled everything, with the exception of the First, where Smoot resides. The ring found some opposition to their nominee for State delegate, but succeeded in naming their man. In order ceeded in naming their man. In order to do this, however, it was necessary to send three church Democrats, or men, whom, it is alleged, voted the church Democratic ticket at the last election, and have, until recently, affiliated with the Democrats. iff, Jesse M. Harmon, for a third term. Barnett, Harmon's deputy, is highly elated over his chances for the nomination for Sheriff. Harvey Cluff of Provo, who is anxious for the nomination for State Senator, is up against the hardest political fight he ever had, and if he lands it the Democrats will hold a jollification, because Cluff will be an easy mark. The Smoot crowd know this and they are letting Cluff think he is in the race, but when it comes to a show down the plum will fall into the lap of a man from the north end of the county. Cluff, however, will be good; he is secretary to the State Board of Legality.

The Provo delegation to the State convention is for Howell for Congress. As far as the voting is concerned in the convention, it would be just as well, and much more convenient, if the delegates would give proxies to one man and let him cast the vote as Smoot whispers.

DAVID EVANS IN CITY

Former Utah Man Now a Resident of Los Angeles.

David Evans, a former attorney of Sait Lake, but now a resident of Los Angeles, arrived in the city Friday, and will remain here a short time on busi-ness. In speaking of Los Angeles and the towns down there which are virtu-ally suburbs of the greater city, he says that business of all kinds is in a prosperous condition. The city has such a start on San Francisco that it is questionable if she ever catches up. "Los Angeles," he says, "gained by the San Francisco earthquake disaster over 60,000 wide-awake, progressive people, who flocked there and came to stay."

"It is astonishing." he adds, "the manufactories that are being built and the volume of business transacted. There seems to be no stopping place, no limit to the progress of the city. It has been going on so for some years, and from appearances will continue so for years to come." Asked as to the Venice ocean resort which he founded some two years ago, Mr. Evans said that he had sold his holdings there.

Apostates from Error.

Apostates in Utah are increasing in numbers day by day. This assertion is not made in respect of decreasing fidelity to religion, although there are some who are refusing to be further directed in spiritual things by the government of superstition and ignorance of polygamous church leaders. But it is the intention here to say that apostasy from the politics of the Mormon church ecclesiasts, as directed through Apostle Smoot, is becoming very Young independent Mormons, and some of the older ones, will vote with the American party this fall. They know that the American party stands for a separation of church and State; that it is courageously waging an uphill battle for their political freedom; that it is moving on with the object of bringing about obedience to law, and for a decent attitude of community respect for the authority of the great Government of the United States; that it is determined to abolish domination of politics by a law-breaking, polygamous hierarchy. And these independent Mormons know that in voting with the American party they do not disregard their honest belief in their religion; but they do realize that in so doing they are expressing regard for political integrity and are delivering blow for an establishment in Utah of the political freedom guaranteed by the Constitution.

Now, if the independent Mormon can so far recognize his duty to the State as to loose his ecclesiastical bonds and support the American party, why on earth should a Gentile continue to ally himself with a traitorous outfit of Apostle Reed Smoot's construction?

Come where you belong, Mr. Gentile, and manfully lend your moral and voting strength to the American party, which has rightful claim to it. The State nominees of the American party will poll a vote this fall that will strike terror to the hearts of the hierarchs, and you ought to be able to say that you helped the good work along.

Job Lyon Expected to Declare Himself So as to Make It Unanimous.

"Cross my palm with a silver shekel," said the Wise Guy, "and I'll hand you the latest from the County Attorney's office, which the same is just at present a seethin" cauldron of internecine strife. They ain't a day passes but Parley P. and Willard shet the front door, pull down the blinds and go at each other hammer and tongs. And, from where I set, it looks as though they both have a holler a-comthough they both have a holler a com-in'. On Wednesday the strife was at its hottest. I didn't hear the start of it, but when my attention was attracted by the hollerin' and rompin' around the office I heard Parley say to his man Friday: 'Ain't you got a gall, now, to ask me (the man that has made you what you are), to step down and out of this fight so as to give you all the support that is comin' to this office? Of course, it looks like a sty full of hogs for the whole office to be askin' for public support, but that ain't no reason why I, Parley P. Christensen, the head and front of this shootin match, should hustle out of the way of match, should hustle out of the way of a mere subordinate.

""Who are you, anyway? Where'd you come from and what did you ever amount to till I picked you up and made you would a been snoopin' around the Police court lookin' for a chanst to defend Arabella Brown or Bad-eye Jackson. I denounce you as a ingrate. You're not only a sprainin' both ankles to grab my job, but you're tryin' to bump me off the road to a place of new emolument. It don't go with your uncle Dudley. If you want one of this office full of candidates to get out of the way, why—get out yourself.'

But don't you ever set claim to a-makin' me a big man in this community. I was great before you ever dreamed o' bein' County Attorney. As a matter of fact, I was bornd great, and its only a accident that you crossed my roth. I have dent that you crossed my path. I'm askin' that you get out of this ridiculous thing you insist on thinkin' is a race for office, and give me a chanst to go ahead and win. You know as well as I do that you ain't got a show on earth and that the whole town is on earth and that the whole town is a-joshin' us for scramblin' for the pap in a body. Only yisterday a banker asked me, with ill-concealed sarcasm, when Job Lyon was a goin' to declare himself a candidate for some soft po-litical snap, so as to make the scramble from this office unanimous.

Of Iowa Mr. Smith says "this is an unprecedentedly good year for farmers, stockmen and business generally. The crops this year, corn and grass, which are the staple products, are far above the average and prices are main tained in the high notch; as a consequence money is plentiful and everybody is enabled to walk on the independent plank. The well-to-do people will average up more evenly in Iowa than in any other section of the entire country, for the reason that there are country, for the reason that there are more comparatively small farms in Iowa than in any other State in the West or Middle West."

When his attention was invited to the political situation in Iowa this year, Mr. Smith said that 'by the re-nomination of Gov. Cummings, it was evident that he was at the head of the Republican party in Iowa, but that he had antagonized many Repub-licans on account of his tarill reform proclivities, who believe in the 'stand pat' policy, admits of no doubt but that the schism thus created will result in Democratic success is hardly proba-

Discharged From Custody on Testimony of the Prosecution.

N. A. McDonald, the carpenter who was arrested some time ago on a charge of obtaining money by false was arrested some time ago on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, has been honorably discharged from custody, the evidence showing beyond a doubt that he was in no manner guilty of any infraction of the law. He was discharged on the evidence of the prosecution, the court not deeming it necessary for him to testify in his own behalf. Mr. McDonald's reputation has always been good and he feels that he has suffered somewhat on account of the publication of the accounts of his arrest.
